HOUSE SPEAKER ORDERS ARREST OF 137 ABSENTEES

Only 67 of 206 Present. Sergeants-at-Arms Comb State to Round Up Missing

12 OF 41 PHILADELPHIANS ANSWER TO ROLL CALL

Fines or Prison Terms Are Possible for Offenders; 2 Granted Leaves of Absence

Harrisburg, June 12.—(By A. P.)—One hundred and thirty-seven members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania were ordered arrested today by Speaker Spangler for being absent without leave from today's session of the House.

Sergeants-at-Arms were sent to all parts of the state to bring them in. This situation developed for the first time since the session of 1915, when a call of the House made after objections were entered to considering bills because of a quorum.

The call showed only sixty-seven of the 206 men at present constituting the House in their seats. Two men were absent on leave.

Content of House

The absentees are technically in contempt of the House and much purged themselves at the bar of the lower branch of the Legislature. The constitution gives wide powers in case of absence without leave. Probabilities are that the House will not only meet tomorrow but may even sit Saturday.

Considerable indignation at the large absence list was manifested. Speaker Spangler said he proposed to have every absentee called to the bar. This was done in the session of 1910.

Speaker Spangler also directed Sergeant-at-Arms Daniel E. Hulihan to call his own list and find out if any employees were absent. "We will take that up too," said he.

The two members absent on leave are Messrs. Davis, Cambria, and Rotherberger, Berks.

The House may fine the delinquent members or even send them to prison for contempt.

The absentees will be dealt with when the House convenes tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. As the absentees are in a minority it is probable they will see to it that the punishment is light.

As the House rules specify that that body cannot adjourn except from day to day, when there is not a quorum present, it was necessary to fix a session for tomorrow in order to adjourn finally.

Twelve Philadelphians Present

It requires two-thirds of the membership of the House to consider appropriations for state institutions, which was the work being done this morning when the flare came up. Only twelve of the 137 one Philadelphia members were in their seats when the House was polled. Those members are Representatives Colville, Cox, Crawford, Crockett, Curry, Dunn, Glass, Krause, Sowers, Walker, Heffernan and Wallace. All but Representatives Heffernan and Wallace are Varo men.

Representative Patterson, another Varo man, had just stepped out of the House before the roll was taken. He reported to bar of the House as soon as the doors opened. Of the one hundred and forty absentees, only two had been granted leaves of absence. Representative W. T. Ramsey, Chester, administration floor leader, is among the absentees. Mr. Ramsey left for his home last night.

Order Signed by Speaker

The formal order signed by Speaker Spangler and sent to House members follows: "The sergeant-at-arms being directed on a call of the House to bring in absent members, you are ordered to bring this session at the upper chamber to the sergeant-at-arms at the bar of the House upon arrival."

If a quorum fails to arrive here tomorrow the House will be unable to adjourn tomorrow. The Senate, in view of the mix-up, will meet tomorrow at noon. It will be the first Thursday meeting this session at the upper chamber. Many House employees, including some of the sergeants-at-arms, also were among the missing when the roll was taken. They must be summoned along with the absent members to report to the House at once.

The roll of the House was ordered by the speaker after two attempts to adjourn had been voted down.

When routine business had been disposed of and appropriation bills on the third reading calendar were in order Mr. Glass, Philadelphia, raised the point that no quorum was present. Speaker Spangler said he had warned members Tuesday and Wednesday to be present on Thursday and denounced those absent without leave as derelict in their duty.

"If this goes on we will not be able to do anything," said he.

SAILOR FOUND DEAD WITH CUT IN HEAD; HAD BEEN ROBBED

Police Not Sure That Man Was Murdered—Seek Those Who Robbed Body

The body of a merchant sailor was found today in Front street below South. The pockets of his clothes were turned inside out and no money was found in them. There was a deep cut on his forehead. Papers in his pocket identified him as Albert London, forty-one years old, who boarded in that vicinity.

Detectives Camden and Bluebond, of the Second and Christian streets station, say there is no doubt that the man was robbed, but there is a question as to whether he was slain or not.

A man has been found who saw three unidentified men carrying the sailor from an alley in South street near Front and leave him on a cellar door, where he was found by Richard Thompson, a wharf watchman. The detectives say that the sailor may have died a natural death on the street before he was robbed and that the thieves carrying the body into Front street so the police would find it.

London's movements have been traced from the time he left his boarding house last evening until 11:30 o'clock last night. He left home with $25 in his pocket, and, according to the detectives, was drinking during the night.

The cut on the man's head may have been received, the police say, when he fell to the street. London is said to have been one of the sailors on an oil ship that was burned last winter while at Point Breeze. He is not known to have been to sea since that time.

STORAGE BATTERY SOARS

Du Pont-General Motors Buying Credited With Activity and Gain

Sensational activity and strength developed for shares of the Electric Storage Battery Company, a local corporation, on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange today. More than 24,500 shares changed hands during the session and a large amount of the business was executed at 88, a gain of 10 1/2 points over yesterday's closing quotation.

This is the highest price reached by the stock since 1916, when it sold at 96. The gain for today made a total advance for this stock of 14 1/2 points and the price of 88 compares with 72 1/2 at the end of last year and with a low for that year of 48.

This is the second wide bulge for Storage Battery since January buying, said to be for Du Pont-General Motors interests, starting the stock upward in March, with a gradual advance following until it rose to 77 1/2 early in May. From that time until this week the shares had been quiet and receded as low as 73, about six days ago. Profit-taking caused some reaction in the late afternoon.

It is generally understood in the financial district that the new bulge is due to further buying by the same interests that started the last previous upward movement and who are said to be trying to get control of the company, with the purpose of using it as a part of the mammoth motor business the Du Pons are developing.

Stockholders of the General Motors Corporation, at a meeting in Wilmington today, voted approval to the action of the directors in increasing the capital of the corporation from $570,000,000 to $1,020,000,000. The total capital is $1,020,000,000. Debiture stock $500,000,000; common $500,000,000; preferred $20,000,000.

CASSATT JEWELS ARE GONE! YES, GONE TO SAFETY VAULT

Sherlocks Hit Trail, but Nary a Fingerprint Is Found—Mrs. Cassatt Smiles—She Thought—Well, Read It Yourself

Mrs. J. Gardner Cassatt thought they were, but they weren't.

She admitted as much herself today with frank amusement at her own expense.

The Cassatt jewels are safe—in the safe.

They weren't stolen, and the police, crushed to earth by the report of an easy robbery, have regained their easy nonchalance.

Mrs. Cassatt has her nonchalance back, too.

"I am much relieved," she said, with a laugh.

Sherlocks Hit the Trail

Word of "the big jewel robbery" at Mrs. Cassatt's house, 1115 Spruce street, was flashed to City Hall last night, while a dozen Sherlock Holmeses on tilted chairs were yearning for the old days when mysteries thrived and the click of revolvers in the dark made an entertaining overture for death grapples.

For, though official City Hall doesn't like robberies and such, the rank and file of the police and detectives thrive on them.

Vare Mare's Nest in Charter Demolished, Says McCain

Schaffer Has Routed Contentions of Opponents That Measure is Faulty—The Bill Is All Right

By GEORGE NOX MCCAIN Staff Correspondent of the Evening Public Ledger

Harrisburg, June 12.—Attorney General Schaffer has demolished a man's nest that was discovered in the new charter bill yesterday.

Senator Vare located the nest, and it was that the measure did not provide machinery for the election of the new and abbreviated Council.

There also were other serious defects to be exposed later. With this first alarm ringing in his ears the Senate laid the bill over until the Monday evening session.

The attorney general has let it be understood that there was nothing in the Vare contention. Action on the amendments need not be delayed in the Senate at that score. The bill is all right now structurally except for some typographical changes.

Political Opportunism

It should not be overlooked that while John R. K. Scott has fervidly endorsed the new charter bill, Senator Vare has withheld comment and remained discreetly silent. It was a clever bit of political opportunism, that speech of Scott's accepting the charter bill. It was an attempt to turn defeat into victory; to make the most of a bad job.

Senator Vare's seizure of the opportunity again to hold up the bill in the Senate stamps insincerity in big letters all over the Scott speech of acceptance. If Senator Vare or his resourceful floor manager, Representative Scott, could at this late date locate the smallest opening for a knock-out blow

CHARTER BILL O. K.; REACH AGREEMENT

White and Lewis Hold Conference and Smooth Out Rough Places

Flaws alleged to have been found in the new charter bill today dwindled to minor details.

At a conference between Thomas Kaehlein White, counsel for the Philadelphia charter committee, and chairman of the sub-committee that drafted the bill, and Edwin O. Lewis, counsel for the Republican city committee, minor changes were made in the bill to correct these details.

The agreement reached between the two leaders of the factions in the fight indicates that all doubt is removed about the bill's final passage before the Senate Monday. Mr. White predicts that it will be signed by the Governor the following day.

Vare Charge "a Joke"

Charges made by Senator Vare before the Senate in Harrisburg yesterday that the bill failed to provide machinery for the election of the members of the proposed new City Council were looked upon as "a joke" by Mr. Lewis.

He told Mr. White the argument "had been sprung at Harrisburg to kid Senator Woodward."

Following the conference between Mr. White and Mr. Lewis the following statement was issued:

"It was agreed that certain verbal changes should be made in Section 6

DRUNKEN AT ATLANTIC CITY

Doctor Loses Life Despite Friend's Heroic Effort to Save Him

Atlantic City, June 12.—Dr. Edward E. Lindeman, of 365 Park avenue, New York city, drowned in the surf early this morning. Doctor Lindeman was bathing with Dr. W. W. Duke, of Kansas City, Mo., who heroically attempted to rescue his friend.

Doctor Lindeman was bathing some distance out when he shouted for help. Dr. Duke reached him and threw him over his shoulder. As he was bound for the shore Doctor Lindeman lost his grasp and went under. His body was recovered several hours later.

ALLIES CONCEDE PLEBISCITE FOR UPPER SILESIA

Answer Will Define Regulations for Self-Determination Vote, French Circles Report

By the Associated Press

London, June 12.—A communist government will be proclaimed in Austria on Sunday with promises of immediate success, according to information in government circles here.

The best information indicates that about forty per cent of the Austrian army is Bolshevik. The communists are expected quickly to align themselves with the Hungarian communists, whose recent military successes are considered to have strengthened them.

The Austro-Hungarian situation as a whole is viewed here as decidedly serious.

Paris, June 12.—(By A. P.)—Bolshevism and a discussion of the position of Bela Kun, foreign minister of the Hungarian soviet government, figured prominently in the deliberations of both the Council of Four and the Council of Foreign Ministers yesterday.

The successes of the Hungarian movement against the Czechoslovakians again has caused anxiety for many days, and the Council of Four has decided that the boundaries between Hungary and Rumania and between Hungary and Czechoslovakia must be determined in order that Bela Kun may be told definitely to what point his troops must be withdrawn if he desires to avoid a clash with the five great powers and win a hearing from the Peace Conference.

Dissent by Bela Kun

While the text of the reply of Bela Kun to the telegram from M. Clemenceau demanding that he cease hostilities against the Czechoslovaks or suffer the consequences has not been published in Paris, it is apparently unsatisfactory.

Official denial is made of Bela Kun's statement that he had been invited to the Peace Conference. He was told in M. Clemenceau's dispatch that he would not be invited to the conference if he did not cease fighting and this was repeated in an invitation to Paris.

TEUTONS WILL NOT GET REPLY BEFORE SATURDAY

Entente Commission Must Fix Total of German Reparation in Four Months

By the Associated Press

Paris, June 12.—There was increasing belief in Peace Conference circles today that the reply to the German counter-proposals would not be ready for delivery before late Saturday night.

The Germans will be given five days' limit for final action, which would, therefore, come on or before June 18.

The reply to the counter-proposals, according to French conference sources, agrees to a plebiscite in Upper Silesia, subject to certain defined conditions.

Dr. Kaehlein White, counsel for the Austrian peace delegation, has sent a second note to the Peace Conference secretary. The note deals with the repatriation of diplomatic officials now in South America without resources.

Must Fix Damages Quickly

As finally adopted the allied reply does not fix the definite amount of reparations, but the reparation commission is required to fix the amount within four months of the signing of the peace treaty.

The main changes in the peace terms are explanations, rather than modifications, in order to meet the German contention that the financial commission was variations, in individual and infringed Germany's rights to conduct her own financial affairs. The revised terms clear away much that was open to the construction of being a guarantee.

Final action on Germany's request for admission to the league of nations has not yet been reached, but the discussion is believed to be tending toward an accord.

Wilson Makes No Plans

Though all the chances are that the reply will be delivered by the end of the week, President Wilson has no plans to leave for Brest, as he has an engagement in Paris for Saturday night. Colonel House will leave for London Friday night and will remain there during the five days allowed the German reply.

He will return for the signing of the treaty next week.

The Council of Four has sanctioned the occupation of Oesel Island, which commands the entrance to the Gulf of Riga, by British troops. The Estonian government agreed on the occupation as a guarantee for the payment of financial aid to the Estonians.

Austrian Reds Plan Coup; May Set Up Soviet Rule

Proclamation of New Regime Expected Sunday—Would Join With Hungary—Peril of Bolshevism in Europe Growing

ALL WELL IN U. S., SAYS HARDING

Ohio Senator Tells Hahnemann Graduates Talent Is Needed Now as Never Before

There is nothing dangerously wrong with the United States and we need only to calm our nerves and correct our diet to go steadily on to robust maturity and glorious fulfillment.

This statement was made here today by United States Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican of Ohio.

He was speaking at the Garrick Theatre to the audience assembled for the seventy-first annual commencement of Hahnemann Medical College. A class of twenty-five received diplomas from Dr. William A. Parsons, dean of the institution, and shared in a round of good advice from the Ohio statesman.

Mr. Harding delivered an unprepared address. His remarks were interspersed with reminiscences, born of experience as the son of a physician and later as a newspaper man and figure in national affairs. He touched lightly on the great international questions of the day, drawing a correlation to medicine, science or practice, a vein of humor masking the seriousness of the subject at times.

Like Cured by Like

"Hahnemann," he said, "must have been right in proclaiming like is cured by like. When we found the world suffering from the threatened domination of autocracy we made our republic automatic and saved the civilization which autocracy threatened. But we didn't do our duty with high attention."

"I will not say that some homeopath thought to cure high cost of living with high cost of government, but we are witnesses to the experiment and the patient needs an eliminative stimulant.

NO GUARANTEES TO ALLIES LEFT IN RESOLUTION

Senate Committee, by 8 to 7, Decides to Report Measure as Amended

By the Associated Press

Washington, June 12.—Senator Knox's resolution to put the Senate on record against accepting the league of nations in the terms of the present treaty was proposed today in an amended form by the Senate foreign relations committee.

The committee struck out the section of the resolution which would declare it a policy of the American Government that whenever the peace of Europe again became threatened the United States would co-operate to remove such a menace.

The motion to amend the Knox measure was made by Chairman Lodge and had the support of Senator Knox and all other Republican members except Senator McMillan, of North Dakota. No other amendments were adopted. The vote to favorably report stood 8 to 7.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, was the first to say that he was opposed to the section of the resolution of Senator Knox which would declare that the power of Europe were threatened again the United States would consider itself obligated to co-operate with its chief co-belligerents for the defense of civilization.

In his fight against this section, Senator Borah was said to have the support of Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

A resolution reserving the right of the American Congress to determine the justice of the obligations imposed upon this country under the much-discussed Section 10 of the league of nations covenant was introduced today by Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota.

Long Debate Expected

The foreign relations committee took up the resolution of Senator Knox proposing that the Senate declare in definite terms its stand regarding the league covenant.

Protracted opposition is expected, and the debate is looked forward to as involving issues which will lead to a stormy fight.

There have been suggestions that its opponents, should they find they cannot beat it, may attempt at all hazards to prevent a vote until after the signing of the treaty at Paris. This resolution, if adopted, virtually would serve notice that the Senate is not prepared to acquiesce at present in a treaty going beyond the settlement of immediate issues of the war.

Many senators who had not expected to speak on the treaty until it was presented for ratification are known to be preparing to take part in the debate on the Knox resolution.

At its meeting today the foreign relations committee also took up before it the question of calling further witnesses in the investigation regarding treaty copies. After hearing Elinor Root, J. P. Morgan, Frank A. Vandenberg and Henry P. Davison yesterday they appeared to be in general feeling among members that the committee had run all the clues in its hands.

May Not Summon Lamont

Mr. Davison, a partner of J. P. Morgan, told in his testimony of securing from Thomas W. Lamont, another member of the firm attached to the Paris peace commission, the copy of the treaty which later was given to Mr. Root and given by the latter to Senator Lodge.

Committee members said today they could see little to be gained by bringing Mr. Lamont here from France to testify.

Considerable comment has been aroused by the delay in receiving a reply from President Wilson to the resolution adopted nearly a week ago asking for the complete text of the treaty.

The general prediction has been that the President would refuse the request, but some senators now are inclined to believe he will not reply at all. He is not required to do so.

Mr. Root and Mr. Davison yesterday maintained that the treaty was public property; that there was but little in it which had not already appeared in the press and that in no sense could it be charged that there had been any bribery or corruption resorted to in obtaining the copy.

Frank Vandenberg and J. P. Morgan, who also appeared before the committee yesterday, denied having copies of the treaty and declared that they had never seen it. A telegram was also read from Jacob Schiff, denying all knowledge of the treaty.

ASKS HALF MILLION TO HUNT BOMBERS

Attorney General Palmer Says Money Is Necessary for Protection of Public

Washington, June 12.—(By A. P.)—Attorney General Palmer today asked Congress for a special half-million-dollar appropriation to carry on the hunt for anarchists, bomb throwers and enemies of law and order.

"The comparatively recent violence and attempted violence on the part of individuals associated with anarchistic organizations," the attorney general said in a letter to Secretary Glass, who transmitted the request to the House.

"discloses existing conditions which renders this supplemental amount necessary in order that there may be ample means of protecting the public and enforcing the laws of the United States."
